Green mortgages – the sustainable solution

Thanks to sustainable construction, you not only save energy costs, but also benefit from attractive interest rates – so a green mortgage is doubly worthwhile.

How do I get a green mortgage?

You can take out a green mortgage if your home or investment property meets Swiss Life’s criteria for environmental sustainability. The following conditions apply:

For properties less than 12 months old:

1. A MINERGIE® (MINERGIE®, MINERGIE®-P/A or P/A-Eco) certificate or
2. a Cantonal Energy Certificate for Building (CECB®)/ Norm Verified Class A or B or
3. the très haute performance énergétique (THPE) standard

For properties older than 12 months:

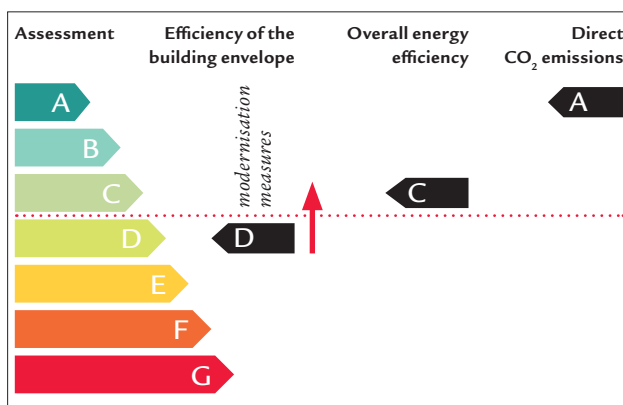

1. A MINERGIE® (MINERGIE®, MINERGIE®-P/A or P/A-Eco) certificate or
2. a CECB® / Norm Verified Class A, B or C or
3. the THPE standard

Renovation

Buildings with a class D or E CECB® / Norm Verified Class can be considered for a green mortgage if energy modernisation measures are possible/planned. These must be documented in a CECB® Plus consulting report / Norm Verified Plan. The planned measures must be implemented within 24 months of the financing payment. After the measures have been taken, a new CECB® / Norm Verified Class must be obtained. The resulting energy certificate is required to be at least class C.

New builds

Buildings under construction have either a provisional Minergie® certificate, a THPE application (building permit) or a provisional new-build CECB® / Norm Verified Class A or B. The provisional new-build CECB® / Norm Verified Class must be converted into a new-build CECB® or regular CECB® / Norm Verified Class after completion of the building work, but at the latest after expiry of the three-year validity period. Provisional Minergie® certificates must be converted into a definitive Minergie® certificate after completion of the building work, at the latest within three months.

The following applies to CECB® and Norm Verified Class: All three efficiency values – the quality of the building shell, the overall energy balance and the direct CO₂ emissions – must meet Swiss Life’s criteria for environmental sustainability.
