

Index-Basket

Swiss Life Calmo IncomePlan

Participate in the positive development of the Index-Basket, comprising renowned indices.

SMI

The Swiss Market Index (SMI) is the main stock market index in Switzerland. In existence since 1988, it includes shares in Switzerland's 20 largest listed companies with the highest liquidity, such as Nestlé, Novartis, Swiss Re and Swisscom.

EuroStoxx 50

The EuroStoxx 50 comprises shares in the 50 leading and largest listed companies in the eurozone. In existence since 1998, it includes shares in well-known companies like Airbus, Allianz, Daimler, L'Oréal and SAP.

S&P 500

The S&P 500 (Standard and Poor's 500), one of the world's leading share indices, comprises 500 of the largest listed US companies. Introduced in 1957, the S&P 500 includes such celebrated companies as Apple, Coca Cola, General Motors, Pfizer and Nike.

Nikkei

Leading Japanese index and Asia's most important stock index. It is based on the prices of 225 stock companies traded on the Tokyo stock exchange, as for instance Canon, Toshiba and Honda.

FTSE

Most important British stock index. It tracks the price development of the 100 largest stock companies on the London Stock Exchange, among them companies such as Unilever, Rolls-Royce and Vodafone.

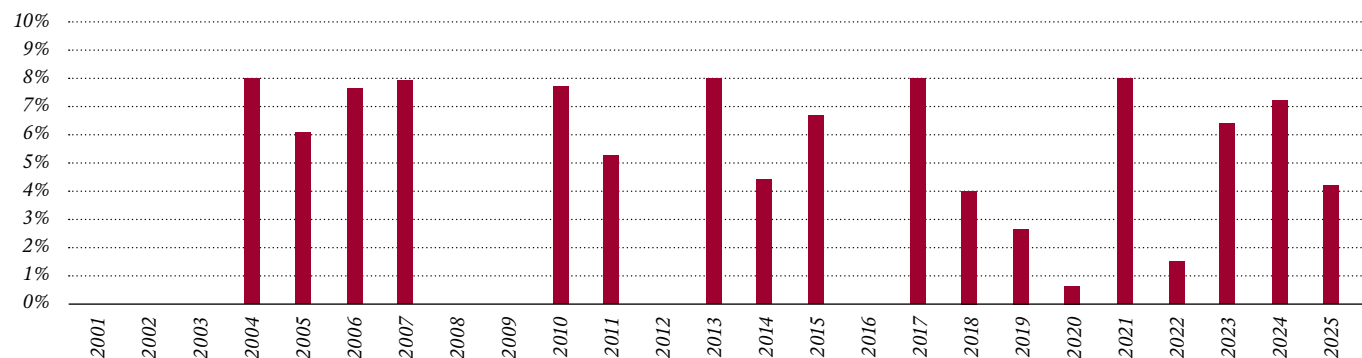

Overview of your benefits

- ✓ Performance via market indices
Market indices comprise a selection of shares that mirror the value of a given market.
- ✓ Diversification
Investing in a range of market indices means taking advantage of opportunities in various economic regions.
- ✓ Transparency
All index levels are published daily for anyone to track.
- ✓ Only positive index performance taken into account
Once the yearly period under consideration has elapsed, indices with positive performance are taken into account according to their weighting, while those with negative performance are zeroed. Even if just one index posts a positive development, the Index-Basket still shows positive performance.
- ✓ No currency risk
Although it takes several market regions into consideration, the Index-Basket does not pose a currency risk. Performance is calculated in CHF.
